

"Imagine an event where luminaries from all faiths, as well as leaders from politics, business, academia, healthcare, and the media, come together with people from all walks of life in the wider community, with no other agenda other than to simply meditate on peace. The Wake Up for Peace event is a powerful demonstration of what happens when we put it all aside and unite for a common purpose - to cultivate peace and goodwill. The air is positively charged with a great sense of togetherness. It is truly extraordinary."
